KNOW YOUR PADDOCK.

More sleep. A better-informed baling window.

Remote paddock monitoring for Australian hay contractors and producers.

5-minute readings. 10-minute uploads. Phone alerts.

Check conditions without another paddock trip.

Hay Mate tracks temperature and humidity where you are working. See trends in the app and get a call or text when humidity reaches the threshold you choose.

FROM Paddock to PHONE

Set your threshold. Let Hay Mate call you.

01 Place it in the paddock

Monitor conditions at the location that matters. Suitable Telstra 4G/4GX coverage is required.

02 Follow conditions in the app

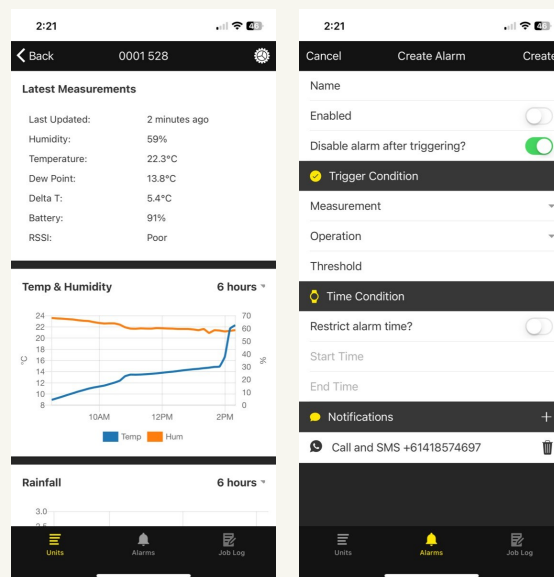

Temperature and humidity are logged every 5 minutes and sent to the cloud/app every 10 minutes. View readings and graphs over time.

03 Set a humidity alarm

Choose the threshold that suits your crop and conditions. Humidity is a useful leading indicator of the baling window.

04 Get the call or text

When your threshold is reached, the system calls and texts your phone and/or the people you nominate on your hay team.

Read the trends. Choose your alerts.

Example app screens. Available readings depend on the model and connected sensors.

Solar powered.

Built-in battery storage. Every model includes solar charging for normal outdoor use, with no routine recharging.

Use paddock data alongside your own checks.

Humidity alerts support your decisions; they do not measure hay moisture. Check hay moisture and local conditions before baling.
